

TO PREACH SPECIAL SERMON TO CHILDREN

Dr. Woodrow's Discourse This Evening Will Close First Congregational Exercises.

Services commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the First Congregational Church, which began last Thursday morning, and which have included every department of the church activities, will end tonight when the Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Woodrow, former pastor, preaches a sermon especially for young people.

Under the direction of Carleton R. Ball, superintendent, the Sunday school had special anniversary exercises at 9:30 o'clock this morning, followed by the regular church service at 11, when Dr. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of the church until a few months ago, preached. The women's societies held a joint meeting yesterday afternoon at which their activities of the last fifty years were reviewed.

Dr. Stephen M. Newman, for twenty-one years pastor of the church, and now president of Howard University, will have charge of a communion service at the church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, and this meeting is expected to be one of the most impressive of the anniversary series.

Musical Service Delights.

Members of the church and many others were present last night at a musical service and organ recital given under the direction of William Stansfield, F. R. C. O., organist.

The service was filled with reminders of the late Dr. J. V. Bluff, the blind musician, who for nearly thirty-five years was organist and who during that time did much to advance the interest in music in Washington. Dr. Newman, who was intimately associated with Dr. Bluff, read a paper giving a stirring word picture of the musician, and a quartet from the choir sang several of his compositions.

The quartet included Mrs. B. H. Smart, soprano; Miss Marian Lerner, contralto; George Calvert, bass, and J. Walter Humphrey, bass.

A solo, "Good Night," by Miss Lerner, was enthusiastically enjoyed.

To Issue Booklet.

One of the most interesting things in connection with the anniversary, especially for the older members, is a collection of more than two hundred photographs of early members of the church, some of them the most prominent persons in Washington during their day, and many of them parents and grandparents of present members. These are displayed in the reception room to the left of the main entrance to the church.

A booklet is to be issued shortly by the anniversary committee containing the history of the church read by W. L. Cliff last Thursday night, the paper of Dr. Newman on Dr. Bluff, the name of every person who ever belonged to the church, and many other things of historical interest.

Undertakers Want Law Providing Examination

Five examiners will inquire into the fitness of future candidates for the undertaking profession if a bill approved by the Washington undertakers is passed by Congress.

The bill, which the undertakers agreed upon at a meeting last night, will be sent to the District Commissioners, with the request that they have it introduced in Congress.

Should the bill pass, the Commissioners would appoint a board of five examiners of persons applying for undertaking licenses. The bill is so framed as not to apply to undertakers now engaged in business.

POWER OF FEDERAL JUDGES AT ISSUE

Government Brief Filed in Action Involving Criminal Case Rights.

Attorney General Gregory has filed in the United States Supreme Court a brief in a case involving the power of Federal judges to suspend the execution of criminal sentences. The case is one in which District Judge John M. Killits, of Ohio, released a convicted prisoner under suspended sentence. The Government holds that district judges have no authority to control sentences beyond the limits set forth by law. The statement of Judge Killits that the custom is followed in other Federal districts is answered by expressions from a large number of Federal judges who agreed with the department that they have no power to suspend sentences. The Government admits that the District of Columbia judges have this power, but they hold that it is specifically provided for by statute, which is not the case in other Federal jurisdictions.

Holy Name Society of St. Stephen's to Elect

Three candidates have been nominated for the presidency of the Holy Name Society of St. Stephen's Catholic Church, an election will be held at the annual election to be held December 9. The nominees are Michael E. Buckley, A. Allston Moore, and Patrick T. Noland.

The following other nominations have been made: For vice president, John R. Smith, Michael E. Buckley, and Thomas A. Noone; recording secretary, Thomas Eronley, William Craven, and Laurence Feeney; treasurer, Matthew Noone, Albert P. Williamson and Christopher Gavin; marshal, George Green, William M. Burch, and Thomas Campbell. Former Judge William De Lacy, the Rev. F. J. McGraw, Edward Murphy, and A. A. Moore were the principal speakers at the meeting at which the nominations were made.

There were 263 members in the Holy Name society held October 19, according to the announcement made by the Rev. P. C. Gavan, pastor of the Shrine of the Sacred Heart, and spiritual director of the Washington section of the Holy Name Society, in an address before the weekly meeting at Holy Trinity Church. He congratulated the Holy Name members of Holy Trinity on the important part they played in arranging the pageant.

SIGNS TO ATTRACT TOURISTS TO CITY

Large Announcements Planned for D. C. Feeder to Lincoln Highway.

Chairman Robert N. Harper, of the local Lincoln Highway committee, has been authorized to enter into a contract for the construction of signs 10 feet to be set up at Philadelphia and Gettysburg to attract tourists over the feeder to the Lincoln Highway, which will pass through this city.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, and Retail Merchants' Association, who are to finance the placing of the markers in the District of Columbia, a design for the large signs was selected and the contract for their construction authorized.

One sign will be placed at North Philadelphia and the other at Gettysburg. In addition to pictures of the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument, and the dome of the Capitol, the signs will bear the statement: "Lincoln Highway feeder to Washington, your Capital, the most beautiful city in the world, through Philadelphia, Chester, Wilmington, and Baltimore."

Colonel Harper presented to the committee his proposition for the making of a motion picture displaying scenes in Washington and along the route of the highway to be exhibited throughout the country as an advertisement of the National Capital. The idea was unanimously endorsed, and Colonel Harper was directed to obtain data to show the cost of making such a picture.
